Beaming with Smiles.

Are the countenances of people who have found speedy and thorough relief from malaria, kidney, bilious, dyspeptic or nervous troubles through the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Such countenances are very numerous. So are letters from their owners attesting the efficacy of the great family medicine. Among the signs of distress (brought out by the stomach, bowels and liver in a state of disorder, are sick headache, heartburn, nausea, loss of appetite, salowness of the skin and eyeballs, and an uncertain state of the bowels. They should be heeded at once. If the Bitters are resorted to, the woe-begone look which accompanies sickness will give way to cheerful looks produced by renewed health. If you are drifting on the coast of disease, throw an anchor to windward by summing up the Bitters to your assistance. It will keep you in safety.

When a person is losing flesh and wasting away there is cause for alarm. Nothing so worries a physician as consumptive men never die if they could regain their usual weight. In fact there would be no consumption if there was no wasting of the system. The cause of this loss of flesh is a failure to properly digest the food eaten. Nine tenths of all our diseases date back to some derangement of the stomach. The Stomach Digestive Cordial will stop this wasting of the body. It acts by causing the food we eat to be digested so as to do good, for undigested food does more harm than good. The Cordial contains food already digested and is a digester of foods as well.

Business in the South.

The improvement in the business of the south is shown in the volume of her exports, which for the first ten months of the present year indicate an increase over the last one of $63,000,000. This is in spite of her Tillmans and Watsons and all their demagogic clamor. The south is really better off commercially and industrially than ever before and is improving steadily from year to year. She has a scurvy plague of politicians to rid herself of, low fellows of the baser sort, occupying themselves in sowing the seeds of social discontent and persuading ignorant constituencies that they are in some way being oppressed, but even they cannot arrest her prosperity, of which her increased export tables give a gratifying and significant indication.—New York Tribune.

Ald. Lamfrom presented following resolution and report from the board of public works.

Owasco, Mich., March 1, 1897.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of Owasco:

Gentlemen—The petition of the Owasco Light Infantry asking for a site for the armory has been under consideration and the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the prayers of the petitioners be granted and that the site of the armory be located on Park street as far as Mason street, according to the plan of survey.

For estimate of cost and plan of armory attached superintendent's report. All of which is respectfully submitted.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Owasco, Mich., Feb. 7, 1897.

Board of Public Works Owasco, Mich.

Gentlemen—The petition asking for sewer connections for the armory building by causing a sewer to be constructed on Park street, or in any other manner which is thought best, and which has been referred to me for estimate of cost, I find as follows:

The plan as laid down on the sewer map and which is the most desirable, is a ten inch sewer commencing at the man-hole on Main street front of Park street, running thence north on Park street to south side of Goddard street, and which would cost complete $1,500.00.

If the sewer is to be laid on the lot owned by the center of Mason street and man-hole built for these flushing purposes, at a cost of $419.00.

The sewer on the lot owned by the center of Mason street and man-hole built for these flushing purposes, at a cost of $228.00.

In the estimate given the cost of commissioning the board as set forth in the charter are not given.

Should the Board desire, however, to construct a sewer especially in armory, a private sewer six inches in diameter, to run from man-hole on Washington street and running in to the building can be built for $36.25. An eight inch sewer would cost $50.00.

These sewers are strictly a private sewer and does not provide for washing out otherwise than through the fixtures that may be placed inside of building.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. H. CONANT, Supt.

Ald. Lamfrom presented following report, which was adopted. Ayes 7, nays 0.

Owasco, March 2, 1897.

To the Hon. Mayor and Common Council:

I would report that I have destroyed coupons by burning same.

GEO. PERRIGO.

Upon motion council adjourned for one week.

FRED EDWARDS, City Clerk.

TWO CLASSES.

Fashions For Those Who Work and For Those Who Work Others.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—In this world women are divided into two classes. One works, and the other makes her object in life to look pretty, and this one does not like to wear anything which might denote work of any kind. Well, with my usual impartiality, I have provided a suitable gown for each, intended for early morning wear at home. The housewife woman has a dress of russet brown serge, made simply, but braided with seal brown sash in an effective pattern on the front breadth and also down the fronts of the otherwise plain waist. This waist fits snugly and has sharp points in back and front. The collar is a plain band and is worn with a neat linen collar and a tie of tan sash. The sleeves are almost tight fitting all the way and have white linen turned cuffs. The whole gown is as neat as it is handsome. A set of aprons is often purchased ready made to wear with these useful morning gowns. The number of different varieties of these pretty little additions to a woman's wardrobe is legion. Some are of the finest linen lawn, others of canvas stuffs, and others are of silk, satin or china crape. The first named are more for ornament than use and are smothered in lace ruffles and ribbon bows. And, by the way, ribbon is taking its wonted place again, and scarcely any garment will be called finished unless it has its quota of bows, loops, plaitings or straight bands. The canvas weave aprons are embroidered either in Bulgarian or Hungarian design. The Bulgarian work is all done in cross stitch in straight bands, while the Hungarian is in satin stitch, often raised, and in scroll or crudely shaped flower patterns in dark cotton shoses or silk floss. The edges of these are scalloped, while the others are hemmed. The Bulgarian apron fastens with cords and the Hungarian with self strings. The silk aprons may be trimmed or left plain. Lace is the prettiest trimming for them, but some are shirred at the top and fasten with a cord, and there is a shirred ruffle at the bottom about ten inches deep, and in this bobbin cord is run and stitched down.

MORNING GOWNS.

For the woman who has not to toil or spin there is a white cashmere inde gown. This is gathered to a yoke and hangs in a triple wattle in the back, is slightly shaped at the hips and hangs loose from the yoke in gathers in front. A rich brown silk cord and tassels confine it slightly in front, giving it quite a Bernhard form. Across the bust and back was a band of the finest Persian embroidery edged on both sides by bands of sable fur, the real sable. On the front and back of the waist lay double pointed revers, both bound with the costly fur. The collar was made in the same way, with the band of embroidery and the fur.

Quite a novelty is the new "vest piece" with a wide back. This is made of velvet of some dark color and either beaded or embroidered richly. An upstanding ruffle is placed around the neck, and the belt is of the same material. A pretty fancy is the new "front" of velvet, black, ruby or some other rich color. There is a high turned-down collar, with another collar simulated beneath it of white silk. Cuscases of lace outline the V front.

The pretty figure jackets are to remain with us. One of black velvet, black ribbon and white lace and sleevelets was offered for general use. Cloth, velvet and the heavier silks are all used in the making of these coquettish little things. Linen collars have wide ribbons that go twice around and tie in front.

English Taxation Ideas.

England is more nearly a free trade country than any other, and her system of taxation furnishes an unmistakable example of the practice and principles of a revenue tariff. Her import duties are imposed almost exclusively upon articles which cannot be produced by her own people upon her own soil. Tobacco, snuff, cigars, chicory, cocoa, currants, figs, raisins, rum, brandy, wine, tea and coffee, these are the articles from which her customs revenue is derived—articles, in the main, not produced in England, but which must be supplied from abroad, while practically all competing products of foreign make and production are admitted through her custom houses free of duty.

Sometimes it seems to weary woman that she must certainly give up. The simplest and easiest work becomes an almost insurmountable task. Nervousness, sleeplessness and pain harass her and life seems hardly worth living.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was made for her. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was made for her. The former is for the distinctly feminine, the other for her general system. Together they supply a scientific and successful course of treatment. The "Favorite Prescription" restores healthy, regular action to the organs distinctly feminine. It forces out all impurities, strengthens the tissues, allays inflammation. The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes appetite, helps digestion, promotes assimilation, fills out the hollows in cheeks, and with good solid flesh and brings back the gladsome glow of girlhood.

They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at Will E. Collins & Co's drug store.
